Abstract

The scope of this deliverable is to outline:

- a) Ethical behaviour in PREVENTOMICS;
- b) The principles underlying the conduct of studies within PREVENTOMICS that require external ethical review and approval.

All activities within PREVENTOMICS and all interactions among PREVENTOMICS partners will be conducted according to this ethics management framework.

PREVENTOMICS partners will adhere to the highest standards of research integrity and to all relevant national, EU and international regulations and laws as they apply to the specific activities.

PREVENTOMICS will include research activities conducted in experimental animals and in human subjects. In the planning and conduct of such activities, all ethical issues will be fully considered. No research will begin until all requisite approvals are in place. All experimental work will be conducted according to the relevant approvals.
